WHO BLAMES THEM?

Quite a good deal has been said about disaffection in the Republican party, by our "A. G. Benton" and his colleagues, the assumed editor, but they have never been able to find a man that was not able to vote his sentiments. They talk of "top-line," "court house ring" and "office trust," and talk, you know, is cheap. But who blames them? They can't talk of their record in defending the Goebel law; it isn't wholesome for them to say they indorse the contest, the overthrow of civil liberty, the seating of the defeated by a contest, the proceedings of which are thoroughly odious and repulsive to the citizens of Ohio county; it would never do for them to say: We indorse the disfranchisement of Jefferson, Johnson, Martin and Magfina counties; it would be journalistic suicide to discuss the persecution of Caleb Powers—of course they wish to see him hanged and the Republican party dunned, but they dare not allow that to come into the campaign; for them to defend Beckham in pardoning one convicted gambler, because there are others that have escaped justice, would be the height of folly, and would result in a stern repudiation at the polls. They are quite aware, if the issues of this campaign are made on the conduct of the Democratic party in State affairs, that the sturdy citizens of the county would ask: Judge Miller, do you indorse the action of Gov. Taylor for the governor's chair, after he was fairly and Constitutionally seated by a Democratic returning board from circumference to center? Mr. Smith, do you indorse this contest? What about you, Mr. Barnes, and you Mr. Butler, and you Mr. Gooley? Most assuredly the thing for you to do is to assure your honorable past, shift the issues, damn the Republican and its editor, cause the god of truth, that reveals your past history, to sear, and talk of things they ought to be and not as you have made them. Whatever you do, you'd better keep State politics out of this campaign. We have repeatedly punctured the platform, on which the Democracy of Ohio county stands and on which the candidates for the various offices presume to stand, and no defense have they offered, they absolutely refuse to close up the inroads made on the infernal thing.

"A. G. Benton," the assumed editor, and each of the several Democratic candidates are appraised of the fact that they can not discuss State or National politics in this campaign. To do so is certain death. They dare not defend the conduct of the Beckham procession propagandists. The head of the ticket dares not advise the public that "my son" floundered in a painting purporting to represent Gov. Taylor shooting Senator Goebel, before the irate Olie James as a red rag in the face of a maddened bull, while addressing a multitude of Ohio county citizens; neither does the candidate for clerk admit that "my daughter" led the procession of "rapine" with assassination cry: "You killed Gov. Goebel! there ain't no black spots on this crowd." These things must be obliterated from the campaign or there is not a ray of hope for a single member of that ticket. An attempt is being made to so direct the campaign, by a man who is incapable of purchasing a pound of "dried swine" without precipitating a quarrel with his friend, the merchant.

Well knowing these things as they do, and having read the decrees of fate, how else could they conduct themselves? What can "A. G. Benton" do but talk of insignificant Republican troubles, the conduct of the Republican and abuse our other self, because he has been associated with us in journalistic work, while we relentlessly fought the enemies of free institutions and civil government? In the consultation meetings, here these orders have been forth, doubtless many prayers have gone forth like this: "Would to God that we might cover up the past and the campaign be directed on new and different lines." Oh! that would certainly be a rich inheritance, indeed, but too good to hope to realize.

The lines of the present campaign are clearly defined. Issues do not come and go with Republicans as they do with Democrats. Every full and change of the moon do not bring us something free to take up and down and around. The issues in Kentucky will be the people versus those holding office by the grace of judicial farce and legislative frauds. Shall the people be permitted a voice in their government and shall they have their votes counted as cast, and the result to stand, are questions for this campaign. Why should Judge Miller, and Mr. Smith, and Mr. Barnes, and Mr. Cox, refuse to allow these questions enter the campaign? Are they opposed to this sort of government? Then gentlemen, explain why you made speeches last fall in the interest of a man who was in open rebellion against the people?

POWERS' APPEAL FOR HELP.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 26, 1901.
Hon. N. B. Harris, Chairman Republican County Committee, Taylor Mines, Ky.—My dear Sir: After a long and to me expensive struggle, I was elected to the office of Secretary of State. At the end of a bitter contest, I was wrongfully deprived of that office. While the title to it was being fought out in the courts, with my own money, I employed a sufficient office force, and met the incidental expenses necessary to the proper discharge of the duties of the office. I was arrested and thrown in jail before I was finally deprived of the office, which I was fairly elected by the people of this State; and in jail I have been for more than one year, contending as best I could with a prosecution, the character of which, and the result of which, is well known. I have been granted a new trial, but I have no money with which to prepare my defense. For two years, I have spent vast sums of money. I cannot contend successfully with $100,000, and that too backed by the strong arm of the Commonwealth. In a case of this character, with an empty pocket book, or meager means.

I much regret to be forced to ask you through the precinct committeemen, and other friends, to make a careful canvass of your whole county and send to me by registered mail, in care of Dr. S. B. Holmes, of M. of Frankfort, Ky., whatever donations the good people of your county feel disposed to make in my behalf. Money thus sent will reach me safely, wherever I may be. I know a great many requests are made of you, and were I not in strained circumstances, I would not call upon you and the good people of your county for help. As you know, it takes money to fight a case of this sort, and I know not when these prosecutions may end. Until my funds were exhausted, and myself thrown in a prison cell, I contended with what little of energy and brains I had for the liberties of the people of this State. Since my incarceration, the whole county is familiar with my record. I am innocent of the charges against me; and if my conduct and condition deserve consideration at the hands of the people of your county, I trust they will not be slow to come to my relief, and will stand by my interests as faithfully as I have tried to stand by theirs. My legitimate activity in this memorable campaign and contest is the cause of all my woes. I am sincerely,
CAL P. KEOWN.

Certainly this appeal for help should be responded to liberally. The statements contained in this letter are unquestionably true, and deserve the serious consideration of my friends. In a view of Powers' unfortunate condition, the ladies of Lexington have taken up his cause and are raising money to aid in the struggle for a fair and impartial trial, which was denied him last summer, when the evidence of such funds as Finley Anderson, Robert Nicks, Stoddard Weaver and others influenced by that $100,000 corruption fund, was admitted against him. From Frankfort to Georgetown and from Louisville to Frankfort, he has been dragged in chains as though he were a madman—or a wild beast—and for what? Because the people of Kentucky elected him to the office of Secretary of State and he was, therefore, in the path of the contest procession of office-seekers' horde of defeated politicians.

Since Mr. Powers' incarceration in due to his struggle to hold what the people gave him, they should remember him substantially at this stage in the drama. Unless his friends stand by him, he will go into court before a judge and jury which long since had their opinions and verdicts made up, unprepared to meet the emergency. It takes money to conduct a case when the Commonwealth is backed by the largest corruption fund ever dreamed of. We insist, that those desiring justice do the humblest citizen, come to the aid of Mr. Powers in his struggle for liberty.

"We hope the fact that James P. Miller ran more than seven hundred votes behind his candid, mainly Democratic opponent, will amply demonstrate that the people of this county want no dark internecine parties. Let men who seek office of whatever political party they may be, come out fairly and fully and give a reason for their faith. Everybody, including sensible members of opposing parties, will have more respect for such a candidate. If Mr. Miller or any man ever for a moment imagined the voters of Ohio county afflicted with psychosis, the result should have very badly been mistaken."—Hartford Herald, November 16, 1892.

This is what the Herald had to say of J. P. Miller's office seeking in '92, when he was defeated for Circuit Clerk. It seems very plausible for men to come out and clearly state why they are Democrats. But Mr. Miller has refused. If it were good in '92 for them to define the cause of their action, would it not be prudent now? The same Mr. Miller is now in the camp with the then editor of the Herald, without fairly and fully giving his reasons for his dislocation of faith and bad choice. If Mr. Miller smelted to the then editor of the Herald, would he mind telling the public in what pool of purification he has been washed? If this Mr. Miller was an office-seeker in '92, what is he now, under the same rules of honesty and political dictum? He has been running ever since. The real character of this gentleman's convictions is less understood now than in '92. He had then just met with a change of political conviction from Republican to Populist faith, and recently knelt at the altar of Democracy's God, and for what?

We are advised that no longer than last summer he advised a friend: "I AM A POPULIST. * * I AM FOR EVERYTHING THE POPULIST HAVE ADVOCATED. I DON'T PROPOSE TO TAKE ONE BACKWARD STEP FOR ANY NOMINATION OR OFFICE. * * BUT I AM A POPULIST," and last March, when he and a Democrat were asking the nomination for County Judge at the hands of the Democratic party, he published a statement contradicting every word of the above. He said:

A CARD.
TO THE VOTERS OF OHIO COUNTY.—I have heretofore, in response to certain friends of mine, made what I conceived to be a clear and explicit statement of my political position. Let there should be any misapprehension, however, in the mind of any man on this subject, I will add to what I have already stated that since the adoption of the Chicago platform by the Democratic National Convention in 1896, and the nomination of this platform by the Democratic party in Kentucky, I HAVE BEEN AND AM NOW A DEMOCRAT. As I understand, the things necessary to constitute party affiliation in this country are first, allegiance to party platform, and second support of party nominees. I had supposed that my political position as here defined, was clearly understood by my friends in this county, and I trust there can be no longer any room for misapprehension on this subject. If nominated for County Judge by the Democratic convention which meets in Hartford next Monday, I shall not be nominated as a Democrat, and shall ask the nomination as a Democrat. I shall submit to the action of that convention and cheerfully support its nominee, whoever they may be, on the Democratic platform which that convention will adopt. Very respectfully,
J. P. MILLER.
March 1, 1901.

One of these statements are false, palpably false, and the other may be, we are unable to say; that one is contradictory of the other, goes undisputed by him, as well as the author of the '92 article. Before our "A. G. Benton" empties his vile slanderous invective upon us, we would suggest that he clear up his record with his J. P. Miller—it will be very interesting just now—THE REPUBLICAN has never said one word against Mr. Miller that we can't prove, and we challenge all the "A. G. Bentons" and cohorts to questions this statement. Did you see them take water?

THAT TWO WEEKS' PAY BILL.

Why any man should vote against the interests of the laboring man is a question for debate. The great American republic owes its progress, its deserved title: "The land of the free and the home of the brave," to the sturdy laborer. In the legislative halls many inducements are offered, by capitalists, to our law-makers to advance certain measures advantageous to their interests. It requires quite a good deal of manhood to resist many of these temptations. But when a man is given a high position by the laboring men of the country, he should not desert them. It is nothing short of treason for a man to forsake his people. The legislature of '94 attempted to bring relief to the miners of the State, and especially to a thousand frugal, hardy workmen of this county, by compelling the operators to pay their employees every two weeks in legal money of the country. The representative from Mr. T. J. Smith, the present Democratic candidate for County Clerk. At every opportunity that was afforded Mr. Smith to vote on that bill he had his vote recorded against it and against the common laborer and his family. Notwithstanding the fact that he was advised that he would some day regret the course of his conduct—he gave the bill a negative vote upon every occasion.

Mr. Smith, you claim to be a friend of the laborer, may we ask why you voted against the two week's pay bill for the laboring men of this county? Were it not so embarrassing, we might with propriety, ask: What did you get out of it? We are at a loss to know why any man should be against the laboring men of this county. We refer specially to those men who go into the depths of the earth and rescue therefrom, the comforts of life, the article that is indispensable to the wellbeing of our cities and towns. We have spent two years among these people, and can say of a truth, that we never associated with a more generous, free-hearted people, and the man that has proven the enemy of these men will be held strictly accountable in the day of reckoning. The miners of this county want to know why you voted against them, Mr. Smith.

It has been loudly croaked by those emissaries sent out by the head of the Democratic ticket, that he, J. P. Miller, never sought an office. The other day the Judge called a gentleman into his office and a lively discussion of matters, political, ensued. The visitor again met this same editor and this interrogative was shot at the Judge: "Judge, if you never sought office as you say, why did you circulate that card on the 1st day of March?" Responding, the Judge cleverly remarked: "Well, some Democrats said they wouldn't vote for me if I didn't." But you say you never sought after nominations or office, but you have carefully looked after votes and gone so far, as to even publish an untruth to get them. It takes votes to get office—Judge Miller has sought votes—the analogy—Judge Miller has sought nominations and office.

ONCE previous to the present campaign Mr. M. J. Cox was a candidate for the same office he now seeks, but had not reached the constitutional age, and was induced to withdraw from the race. In conversation with a friend (and we might make this still stronger) said that he knew he was too young, but that didn't make any difference with a Democratic Legislature, he'd be seated anyhow. Do the people of Ohio county need such a fellow to represent them? Does Kentucky need him? Is it not reasonable that he would heartily indorse Woodson's editorial that we published last week? Mr. Cox, the people are going to say on the 5th of November that they don't need any such a fanatic without force of character to represent them at Frankfort.

"UNDER the operation of the Goebel law, the election is not left to chance."—H. Watterson. Those who indorse this law and its results, the contest, please stand: J. P. Miller, T. J. Smith, Thomas E. Butler, L. W. Godsey, M. J. Cox, W. H. Barnes, Frank Wade, James C. Bennett, James L. Rowe and Edward L. B. Well. Be seated gentlemen, those opposing this law and its results, the contest, please stand: Alvin Bennett, Fon Rogers, M. L. Heavin, M. S. Ragland, Cal P. Keown, James DeWeese, T. H. Black, Frank Lowe, John H. Wood and Ben L. Davis. Good people of Ohio county take your choice.

Our friends, the enemy, have revealed in no little amount of bombastic hilarity about the assassins of Mr. Goebel, but they have never accomplished the public with any statement of the amount of that $100,000 corruption fund left after the conviction of three men. Would they mind making a report? In that the public would like to know what per cent. was paid for purchased evidence, what per cent for witness fees and what per cent for instructions.

WANTED—An intelligent man of good repute, clear of "A. G. Benton" letter scandals, who does not accept 11 cents worth of cabbage for a dime, and when his bacon falls short a half ounce per single pound, raises the devil generally, throws his bacon in the face of his patron advertiser, goes to his desk and there tells the public how a grocer dealer should hold his knife on a "hog's side"—to edit a local Democratic journal in Western Kentucky.

Most assuredly it is a rich inheritance to be able to carry the votes of your countrymen in your vest pocket when you want office. Don't you think so Tommy?

Out but, seeking votes is not seeking office, "jus so," but it takes votes to get office, unless the Legislature is in session, therefore the seeker of votes is a seeker for office.

The Virginians had a second flood recently. Doubtless they think there is nothing in promises, but then this was only a local flood.

Tells of the Individual Merits of Each Candidate.

Says County Ticket Most Capable and Deserving of Popular Support.

Narrows, Ky., June 25, 1901.
At no time within the writer's memory have the Republicans of Ohio county proposed a county ticket more capable or deserving of popular support than that nominated at our late convention.

Alvin Bennett is a young man of exceptional personal character and is capable of giving the people much better service in the Kentucky House of Representatives than his opponent.

Fon Rogers, who aspires to preside over the Ohio County Court, is an honest, earnest and energetic young man, against whom the worst crime his opponents can allege, is that on the stump and in the columns of THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN in the trying days of 1899 and 1900 he fought the Goebel octopus which was trying to fasten its slimy tentacles upon the good people of the State. If Mr. Rogers is the best hated candidate on the ticket by the Democrats of the county it is because of his energetic defense of his party, and Republicans will not discount him for that, besides, his convictions, political and otherwise, do not require periodical revision.

Mose Ragland is everybody's friend and the people will not defeat him for County Court Clerk just for the personal accommodation of his opponent, who has already held that office two terms along with most ever other office within the gift of the people of the county, and grown rich at the expense of the tax-payers of the county. There is no reason why President McKinley's recent patriotic utterance in regard to a third term should not apply as well to the office of County Court Clerk. Down with the third term! Without disparagement to other deserving Republicans, it is but fair to say, that Mr. Ragland's long, efficient, honorable and unselfish service to his party, makes him the most deserving Republican in Ohio county and his reward is as certain as his service has been effective.

Musker Heavin, in whose hands the people of Ohio county have trusted the protection of their lives and property has proved himself so worthy of the trust that he is only opposed for re-election to the office of County Attorney by a substitute candidate the original Democratic nominee for that office recognized the utility of opposing Mr. Heavin and discreetly withdrew from the race. And this reminds me of this statement of the biographer of President Harrison, by way of apology for Gen. Harrison's defeat for Governor of Indiana. "It must be remembered that Mr. Goelove was the original Republican nominee and when he withdrew from the race Gen. Harrison was substituted. Gen. Harrison was not personally a weak candidate, but the disastrous effect upon the campaign of the withdrawal of the original nominee rendered the election of a substitute candidate, however popular personally, well nigh if not absolutely impossible."

With no fault in personal character, with exceptional professional ability and a thoroughly satisfactory official record there is no reason why Mr. Heavin should not enjoy the fullest support of the people.

Cal Keown has administered the Sheriff's office and the people know to what effect of him in that position. It is generally conceded by the Republicans of Ohio county and concurred in by a host of Democrats that nothing within the gift of the people is to go to Cal Keown. There is no man in Ohio county more universally and deservedly liked than Mr. Keown, and here, near the home of his opponent, Keown's election is conceded by most everybody.

Jim DeWeese by his own energy and perseverance came up out of the clove. He is effable, courteous and brilliant and well equipped to administer the office of Superintendent of Schools.

Tom Black's opponent is credited with conceding Tom's election as judge, which if true, does great credit to Mr. Wade's political sagacity. Tom is one of those genial fellows whom everyone likes, and besides, he seems to have been born under a lucky star.

Frank Lowe is a worthy young man against whose account no evil is charged and will give the people satisfaction in the administration of the Assessors office.

Messrs. Wood and Davis candidates for the offices of Surveyor and Coroner respectively, are honest and industrious young men well fitted for offices they seek and deserving of popular support.

SORES AND ULCERS.

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition—is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of this unhealthy matter through the skin, and great danger to life would follow should it be held before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S. S. S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system all morbid, diseased matter. A CONSTANT DRAIN EFFICIENTLY. UPON THE SYSTEM. When this has been accomplished the discharge gradually ceases, and the sore or ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old impurities to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviate pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, even though your constitution has broken down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood necessary to heal the sore and nourish the debilitated, at-eased body.

Mr. J. B. Talbot, Lock Box 245, Winona, Minn. "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was sore and swollen. Several physicians treated me and I made two trips to Hot Springs, but found no relief. I was induced to try S. S. S. and it made a complete cure. I have been a well man ever since."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisonous minerals to ruin the digestion and add, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic.

Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for this service.

IN Memory

Of Harry Watman, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam James, Reener, Ky., age, two years and four months, who departed this life June 22, 1901. After almost a year of untold suffering, the bright angels of heaven claimed him, as their own and carried him to that bright paradise where all suffering and pain are over and sorrow is no more.

One long year has passed since his bright spirit fled and a place is vacant in our home which never can be filled.

Our home is dark and dreary, No consolation have we found, Since all its brightness has flown, For he was the sunshine of our home.

Weep not dear parents, For the loved one who has gone, But strive to meet him In the great beyond.

We miss you darling Harry, For you we weep in vain, In thy narrow bed you're sleeping, Oh, wake and come again.

We miss thy little footsteps, Thy laughing tones are hushed, Now still lies thy folded hands, Sweetly sleeps thy precious dust.

Thou art resting, angel Harry Upon thy Savior's breast, And we miss you dailing When we laid you with the dead.

We loved you darling Harry No tongue can ever tell, How deep, how dearly And oh, how well.

Christ loved him too And thought it best To take him home With him to rest.

We mourn the lost one We did our best to save, Beloved on earth, regretted gone Remembered in the grave.

Now take him blessed Jesus To your home in heaven, Keep our darling Harry, The little one, forever.

Practical Aids for Teachers and Applicants.

It is a SPECIAL aid to applicants in the matter of Theory and Practice. Much emphasis has been put upon this subject in the examinations, and many an applicant otherwise qualified is defective in theory of teaching, as this is a subject that can be learned from a text book.

A Guide to Study in the Preparation For Teachers' Certificate.

It is not a book prepared by one ignorant of the needs of teachers and applicants, but is the result of experience of eleven years in the school work by an ex-member of the State Board of Examiners. It is not an "almanac," but a pocket encyclopedia, containing exactly the information that both teachers and applicants must have.

The Dundee Maconic picnic was a complete success. A very large crowd attended, the day was one of profit and pleasure to all.

Miss Mamie Power, left yesterday for her home in Mt. Sterling, after a pleasant stay in the millinery department with Carson & Co.

The Institute begins Monday the 22nd of July, and Thursday evening the 25th, Hon. Alf. Taylor will deliver his famous lecture on "Poetry and Pearls."

The picnic at McHenry to-morrow, promises to be a rare treat for everybody. The Odd Fellows and Red Men entertain, which fact assure success.

Dr. E. A. Carson, Dentist, will be in McHenry to-day, will remain two days; will be in Echols the 30th, remain one day; Rockport July 1st, remain two days.

Dr. E. A. Carson has opened a dental parlor over Carson & Co's store. He is fresh from the dental college and well prepared to mend and make teeth. Call and see him.

Hon. Alf. Taylor, Tennessee's great humorist and lecturer, will address the Ohio County Teachers' Institute, Thursday evening, July 25. This promises to be a rare treat. "Poetry and Pearls" is his subject.

Last Thursday evening John Allen and Buck Allen became involved in a quarrel, which resulted in the former shooting the latter. The wound is reported not serious. We understand that John shot in self defense.

Capt. J. G. Keown has sold his interest in the lively stable to his partner, Mr. A. C. Taylor, who has full control of same. Mr. Taylor is one of Hartford's hustling young men and we sincerely wish him abundant success.

Thirty-six applicants for teachers license appeared Friday for examination. Thirty-one succeeded while only five failed. Ten first-class, Seventeen second class and four third class certificates were issued. John C. Barard made the highest grade, 97 7-11 per cent.

The Board of Trade and Mayor of Louisville, together with quite a number of merchants from the city will be at Beaver Dam next Tuesday, and desire to meet all the merchants of the county and other business men. The purpose is to promote business fellowship.

Mrs. K. V. Williams died at her residence in Beaver Dam, Saturday, of flux and was buried Sunday at the Beaver Dam Cemetery in the presence of quite a host of friends and relatives. Mrs. Williams was one of Beaver Dam's most estimable citizens and her untimely death has cast quite a pall over the community.

On request of the committee on invitation the entire Fiscal Court and the County Attorney have been appointed by Judge Miller to attend the Good Roads Convention at Owensboro the 16th and 17th of July. By all means the entire court should attend. Its a good move and should be supported by all progressive citizens.

Mr. Marion Crowder, from select, announces for Constable in the Crowder Magisterial District to-day. Mr. Crowder comes from the central portion of the district which should be quite an object in selecting the candidate for this office, besides being centrally located, he is well qualified for the office and would make a good servant for the people. He would also do credit to the county ticket. No better man could be named.

Few women are taught to wield fire arms as they should, but when one of the fair sex chooses to handle a gun, she can do it effectively. The other day Mrs. Joe B. Sanderfur, Sanderfur's crossing, killed four muskrats out of five shots. Mrs. Sanderfur is sixty-one years old, and her advanced age makes the accuracy of her fire the more remarkable. The muskrats have been very destructive to the young corn, but a few such raids on them will make a change in their program.

HON.

Alfred Taylor,

One of the South's "big gun's, will lecture to the Teachers' Institute,

Thursday Evening, July 25,

at 8 o'clock, on

"Poetry & Pearls"

Col. Taylor is without a peer as a lecturer, and has few equals as a brilliant orator and entertainer. He is one of Tennessee's gifted sons, of whom she is justly proud.

The citizens of this community seldom have an opportunity to be entertained by such a polished statesman. He has received the highest praise and commendation everywhere throughout the South and West. Here is what they say of him and his most excellent subject:

"Poetry and Pearls" is visibly the successful effort of a master mind." — Nashville Banner.

"From beginning to end the lecture abounds with beautiful language." — Nashville American.

"The peroration was one of the finest ever heard from the rostrum." — Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

"The lecture of Hon. Alf. Taylor was a brilliant success. In sentiment pathos, and in bright flights of fancy he is the equal of his famous brother, Gov. Bob Taylor." — DeSoto (La.) News.

June 23.—Advice is cheap and often does more harm than good. Desiring to do no harm I will confine myself to suggestions.

I desire the attention of all who love their country better than their party. Many such are Democrats, many are Republicans, and many more are Populists. I have strong faith in Populists, they have the independence and moral courage to defy party bosses and contend for equal chances and opportunities for the common people. Some of the measures they propose may be impracticable, but their designs are good, and the composite material of their party is excellent.

And as they have no candidate this year in Ohio, county they can decide the contest between the Democrats and Republicans, which I hope they will do correctly, without offending good people in other parties. In the impending conflict between "corporation and people" we will need all good people, for the corporations and party leaders will control the ignorant and vicious, which means millions. W. F. CONDIT.

Ira Ragland Dead.

The death of Mr. Ira Ragland, which occurred at the residence of his father, Mr. M. S. Ragland, Sunday morning, was no surprise to the family, in fact it had been expected for some time. Two years ago he joined the 3rd Kentucky Regiment and went to Cuba in the cause of his country, but when the war closed he entered the service again and was removed to the Philippines, where he remained until his health had completely given down. He returned to the threshold of his fathers home to spend the remainder of his days in untold suffering from the disease which had been undermining his constitution for quite a while. When he left for the far East, he was a model of perfect health, but this was soon impaired by exposure and fatigue.

His remains were buried at Rosine Monday in the presence of a large number of friends. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Jas. C. Davis. The family have the sympathy of a host of friends.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease. It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach. The New Precinct, Ralph.

Orders Ohio County Court, regular term, 5th day March, 1901:

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, and notice having been given the Court, that there was polled in the Magan voting precinct more than 250 votes at the last general election, it is therefore ordered and adjudged by the Court in accordance with section 1443 of the Kentucky statutes that said precinct be divided as follows, to wit:

Beginning at Thos. Hickey's in the Hartford and Hawesville road, thence to Alias Farmer's road; thence with the new cut road to James Cap's; thence up the Cap branch to Jas. Moseley's farm; thence to the big road on top of Red Hill near Jack Wright's; thence with Magan and Renold Station road to a new store at Buckbee's; thence with the new cut from Ruth Edge's to Clark school house to the lands of Harve Evans and Mile Hines; thence with their line to Smith's creek; said precinct and all North of said line, to be known as Ralph's precinct and the voting place to be at Ralph's store.

J. P. MILLER, Judge.

Doubtless a study of the outline of this so-called precinct, will convince those acquainted with the lay of the country that it was so laid-off as to save the scalp of one of the present "Squires. Some of the voters in the Ralph precinct live in thirty feet of the Magan voting place. Quite an inconvenience to the citizen, which will doubtless be rebuked at the poll in November.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. SUNNY SOUTH

Fifty Cents a Year Less Than a Penny a Number
THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY
Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century the Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains serial stories from the best known authors the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is their own story paper. Short stories, sketches, incidents of war and of peace, anecdotes at home and abroad, poems, ideas, fables, hints for home keepers, everything of interest to old and young will appear in its excellent weekly make up.

The two great serials, "The Sunbeam of Light" by ANTHONY HOPE now in progress with full synopsis to cover former installments, and "Rosalynde's Love" by Maurice Thompson, to begin April 25th, will be read with absorbing interest throughout the whole South. This is your opportunity, and only 50 cents for a full year of it. Think of it! 50 cents.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No agents' commission. The paper is its own best offer and argument to the subscriber. One sample copy free to you and to your six neighbors whose names and addresses you send on a postal card, provided you send at once. A club of five at 50 cents each, accompanied by the full amount $2.50 net to us, entitles the sender to The Sunny South a whole year free.

Good and Bad Reciprocity.

The French treaty gave some of our folks a chill. "If that is reciprocity," mused the American knitter of underwear, as he pored over the concessions to French habillgrains, et al., "I don't see where my share of the pie comes in." He didn't fancy the reciprocal idea when it came to sacrificing his business in order to promote that of his neighbor, the pork packer, or some other. He was inclined to think the whole theory of reciprocity a gilded sham.

But it isn't. It makes all the difference in the world what you reciprocate. Furthermore you cannot make a trade unless you have something to trade off. Lord Salisbury a year or two ago said that England was not in position to make reciprocity treaties for the reason that her customs policy left her without the means for concessions. If our tariff laws contain imposts that are not needed to protect our industries from possible foreign aggression, we have no business to attempt reciprocity negotiations.

Generally our tariff laws have blundered the principles of revenue and protection. Duties on coffee and rubber, for instance, were purely revenue duties, there being no prospect of producing either article in this country, and to reduce or abolish either or both in a treaty with such a country as Brazil, in exchange for like concessions on goods produced by us—that was real reciprocity. Treaties along that line have been productive of good results. They involve no sacrifice of industries on the part of either nation. They benefit both countries.

That sort of exchange was further facilitated by the provision for executive imports. If some foreign nation would not admit our products on favorable terms the President of the United States could impose a duty on certain exports of such nation when brought here. For instance, coffee being on the free list, so that rebates were unavailable, the President could still discriminate between coffee producing nations that would favor our exports and another that would not.

But when the treaty making power leaves such safe ground and undertakes to reduce duties on American manufactures it enters a dangerous

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure Catarrh by the use of powders, cathartics, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the affected parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "Snuff's" the Guaranteed Catarrh Cure, and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full months treatment and everything necessary to its perfect cure.

"Snuff's" is the only perfect Cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve Hay Fever or Cold in the Head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to Consumption—"Snuff's" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuff's" the "Guaranteed Catarrh Cure."

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of One Dollar. Address: Dept. 1, Edwin B. Giles & Company, 233 and 235 Market Street, Philadelphia.
